RELIGIOUS EDUCATION WORLD'S NEED

NOT ONE PROTESTANT CHILD OUT OF FIVE IS INSTRUCTED

Declared Rev. Charles R. Erdman of Princeton, N. J., Moderator of the Presbyterian Church Before An Assembly of 500 Presbyterians at the Neil House, Columbus, Tuesday Evening.

Religious education was stressed as the greatest need of the world by Rev. Charles Erdman, Princeton, New Jersey, moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly in an address before a gathering of 500 Presbyterians Tuesday night in the Neil House, Columbus.

"Our institutions were used first of all in training men for the ministry," Rev. Dr. Erdman declared. "We always have been eager to have young men and women educated in things concerning God."

"There never was a time in the history of our land when there was more need of just exactly that kind of education. Not one Protestant child out of five has any instruction of any kind in religion, and not one out of 10 has anything like a scientific course in religion."

"Recently I was in St. Louis and they had been taking census of 1900 high school children. It was discovered that 25 per cent did not know the name of the mother of our Lord nor the place where He was born, at least 20 per cent could not recite the first line of the Lord's prayer, more than 40 per cent did not know what was meant by the parable of the good Samaritan and a large number thought Paul was the name of a book in the New Testament."

Optimism in the outlook was voiced by Rev. Dr. Erdman in his declaration that "our great churches are beginning to show their new interest in religious education and they are using their superb structures for this work."

He specifically named the great institution at Utica, "where 62 rooms are being used for this work," the edifice at Birmingham, Alabama, where there are 101 rooms in connection with the church for this purpose and the church at Tulsa, where there are 102 rooms in conjunction with an auditorium having a seating capacity of 2000.

He said the Presbyterian church is uniting with the other denominations with forward movements in evangelistic and missionary work.

Rev. Dr. Erdman paid tribute to the church laymen upon whom the major portion of the work had fallen and who were in a large measure responsible for the success won. "It is the sympathy of the laymen that has kept many of us in the ministry," he declared.

With reference to denominationalism Rev. Dr. Erdman declared at the outset of his address that "he would be glad when the time comes, as it will in God's own time, when we are all just one great family of Christians."

The moderator was in a gay, genial mood, which, altho said to be a prevailing characteristic with him, was perhaps a surprise to many who expected a man of august and forbidding mien.

His address was interspersed with witticism and anecdotes which brought forth much laughter and frequent applause.

He admitted that when approached by a prominent member of his denomination and asked whether "he wasn't troubled with the questions before the church," he had answered that it wasn't the questions that troubled him half so much as the answers.

Doctrinal differences of the church in the church, in course of time, will be settled, he declared. He spoke of the Neil House, Columbus.

a number of the church doctrines, explained why they were and their meaning to the Presbyterians and concluded this part of his address by saying: "A person should select exactly the form he likes."

He referred to the proverbial sternness and undeviating course of Presbyterians, and told with apparent relish that he had it from sources "interesting but not authentic" that Harry Lee was the only man who was able by his conduct to make George Washington justified in swearing.

Presbyterians were urged to get out and fill their quota of souls brought into fellowship with Christ this year. The quota for the church is 130,000. The number brought into the church last year was 100,000 he said.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From the Wires by Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Columbus.—Motion for a new trial was overruled by the state supreme court in the case of Cinderella M. Lang against the Lima State Hospital society.

The case, a damage suit filed by Mrs. Lang because of injuries she received while a patient at the hospital, was decided by the court of appeals of Allen county and was carried to the supreme court by Mrs. Lang.

The supreme court held that the hospital cannot be sued because it is a charitable institution.

Columbus.—James Watkins former Youngstown police chief lost his second appeal to the supreme court from his conviction for illegal possession of liquor.

Watkins was custodian of a Youngstown lodge which was raided by dry agents. The court held no constitutional question was involved and that Watkins was responsible for liquor being in the lodge rooms.

Dayton.—The St. Paul's Episcopal church for children is in the process of being dedicated with elaborate ceremonies, which began Monday night.

It is the only church of its kind in the United States and represents an investment of $50,000. There is a similar church in London, according to Rev. Phil Porter, pastor of Christ Episcopal church. The rector says he knows of no other children's church.

Fremont.—William Clark, youthful confessed slayer of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoffman, Helena farmers, was bound over to the Sandusky county grand jury when arraigned Tuesday before Justice of the Peace Frank N. Seager.

The grand jury will meet Thursday and an indictment charging first degree murder, will be returned, Prosecutor George E. Sheffler declared.

Cleveland.—Alleged interstate bootlegging activities of the Superior Industrial Alcohol company, involving former and present federal officials and scores of agents and customers of the company, will get under way formally tomorrow, United States District Attorney Bernstein announced. "Murder, graft and intrigue will feature the evidence as the amazing ramifications of the company's alleged illicit liquor traffic are revealed, Bernstein declared.

Miss Belle K. Huber, of the O. S. S. Home, Xenia, is in the city the guest of friends.

OCTOGENARIAN

Ira Hardman Gulick Died at His Home Tuesday—Funeral Services Thursday.

Ira Hardman Gulick died at his home, corner Huston and Maplewood avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The deceased had been ill for fifteen days.

He was born in Peoria, Illinois, May 30, 1843, and was a son of William N. and Calista Hillery Gulick. He came to this city in 1850 and followed farming as an occupation.

He married Miss Amelia Louise Wehe at Darbyville, February 16, 1871. His wife and six daughters survive. They are Mrs. May Sines, of Columbus; Mrs. Nellie Tipton, of Pataskala; Mrs. Ruth Powell, of Chicago, Illinois; Mrs. Alice Cady, of this city; Mrs. Leona Freshour, of Columbus, and Mrs. Pearl Bon, of South Amboy, New Jersey.

A half sister and a half brother are living; Nelson Trego, of Williamsport and Mrs. Alice Loofbourrow, of Clarksburg.

The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock at 215 South Scioto street at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alice Cady. Rev. E. A. Tovey will officiate. The hymn, "Face to Face," will be read. Burial in the Muhlenberg township cemetery at Darbyville.

The pallbearers will be William B. Cady, R. G. Freshour, W. S. Tipton, O. D. Powell, J. P. Whitehead and Ray Gulick.

They're For Economy of Letters. The plan to change the name of the Interior Department to that of Public Works and Domain will be no favor to the headline writers.—Indianapolis Star.

Need Will Be Further Shown. When the present session of congress nears the dog days doubtless there will be renewed interest in the plan of Vice President Dawes to muzzle the senate.—Chicago News.

Has Even Volcanoes Bluffed. The recent grumbings from Mt. Vesuvius seem to have subsided, probably on order of Premier Mussolini.—Kansas City Star.

Columbus.—Hotels must keep the locks on their rooms in good condition or assume responsibility for the theft of property of guests from the rooms, the supreme court ruled.

PUBLIC SALE ATTENDED BY LARGE CROWD

Talmage Thomas, who has been a tenant on the George Steely farm in Washington township for the past several years held a public sale of his farm chattels Tuesday.

The attendance was good considering the very inclement weather and prices obtained were better than the average. Some of the maximum prices were as follows: Horses $135; cows $65; bull $85.50; brood sows $52; sixty pound shoats $12.10; hay 13 per ton; corn in crib 63½ cents per bushel; fodder 37 cents per shock; farming implements, harness, etc., selling in about the same proportions; sale totaling $2,520.4.

The hungry were well taken care of by the ladies of the Evangelical church of Stoutsville.

C. G. Chalfin auctioneer and J. D. Hummel, clerked.

Mr. Thomas has purchased a farm in Scioto township, adjoining the village of Commercial Point and will remove to same about March 1. D. E. Seitz will occupy the Steely farm that is being vacated by Mr. Thomas.

Columbus.—Harold Culbert, of Fremont, was appointed by Prohibition Administrator Porterfield to be group chief of the Cincinnati office, effective February 10.

HARDING HOME FOR MUSEUM OF EFFECTS

Of Late President and Wife
—Present House too Small for Purpose.

Major Ora Baldinger, custodian of the Harding home at Marion, the residence of the late president and Mrs. Warren G. Harding, has presented a proposition to the Marion county Federation of Women's clubs as the starting of a movement to raise funds for erection of a building adjoining the Harding home in which to house the personal effects of the late president and his wife for exhibition purposes.

The plan was presented to the executive board of the federation at a special meeting Saturday night and in brief is this: The designation of the week of February 22 as Marion week during which all Marion people who wish may inspect the articles which are now ready for exhibition at the Harding home; the issuance of 3000 tickets to be sold at one dollar each for admission to the home that week; the sale of such tickets by members of the 20 or more clubs making up the federation; the starting of a permanent Harding museum fund with the proceeds which may be left after expenses of the week are paid.

Home Not Big Enough.

Major Baldinger, who occupies the home, is arranging and cataloguing the hundreds of articles, and says he will have all that the four large rooms of the home can contain ready for inspection by February 20. But the home cannot hold all the many personal belongings left by the Hardings as there are two carloads.

Major Baldinger says there was no special provision made for financing the museum in plans of the Harding Memorial association, so that it is necessary to obtain funds in other ways.

His plan includes the raising of a permanent endowment fund which would provide for maintaining the museum after it is conducted and opened, including a permanent guard to protect the many valuable articles. When this endowment is provided, the museum would be opened to the public without charge. Until it is, he would charge a nominal admission fee to all visitors.

WHEAT FUTURES ON DECLINE

Chicago, Feb. 8.—(UP.)—Heavy selling caused a sharp break in wheat on the Chicago board of trade today.

May wheat, new, closed at $1.69 3/4 a bushel, a loss of 4 7/8 cents from the previous close. May wheat, old, lost 5 cents and the July delivery dropped from two to two and three-quarter cents.

Corn and oats were affected, losses ranging from 1 7/8 to 2 1/4 c.

The drop was due to an overbought condition, brokers said.

More than sixty per cent of all commodities distributed today are sold on the monthly payment plan. From this figure it is evident that business has geared itself to the income basis of the consumer. The carrying charge on this vast turnover is reasonable, and yields a fair average return. But sacrificed payments and repossessed radios, phonographs, furniture, pianos and autos tell the grim story of contracts drawn entirely in favor of the seller.

The safe, sure way to buy an article on a monthly payment basis is to borrow the money under the popular City Loan Plan where the contract is in the borrower's favor, and deal for cash. We know how to take care of cases of adversity too, which is not a bad thing to keep in mind when you are making promises about the future.

CO-RECEIVERS NAMED FOR KROPP SHOE COMPANY

Edward C. Turner and Perl S. Miller Appointed Under $25,000 Bond By U. S. Judge.

Columbus, Feb. 9.—Edward C. Turner and Perl S. Miller were named co-receivers under $25,000 bond each for the Kropp Shoe Manufacturing Co., 309 South Fourth street, yesterday by Federal Judge Hough.

The receivers were instructed to continue operations temporarily and to report as soon as a thorough investigation has been made whether the property can be operated profitably or should be disposed of to satisfy creditors.

Indications are the concern may not be solvent, Judge Hough was told. The building is mortgaged for $100,000, delinquent income tax and interest due is about $93,000 and other claims total approximately $128,000, officials of the company said. The company is capitalized for $300,000.

Mr. Miller's appointment was favored by the Commercial National Bank, which has a claim of $46,000 against the company, and Mr. Turner was favored by the U. S. Leather Co., with a claim of $17,000.

Receivership was sought by the leather company, following the suicide last Wednesday of William Kropp, president of the shoe concern.

REGULAR MEETING

Last evening Mrs. A. A. Parrett, president of the Auxiliary to the American Legion was hostess to that organization at her home in East Main street. The members are co-operating and attending the meetings very nicely and there was quite a large attendance at last night's meeting.

The treasurer's report showed a very nice return from the soup sale that was held last Thursday and it was decided that since this sale was such a success it would be a weekly affair, for a time at least. This was decided after numerous members reported that they had been requested to do so. It was also decided to make more soup this time as the supply last Thursday was by no means sufficient, numerous persons being turned away. The sale this week will be on Thursday again and vegetable soup will be the bill of fare.

The matter of new members to the Auxiliary was also taken up and several names presented of ladies who are eligible and who will be solicited within the next two weeks. It is hoped to enroll all those who are eligible to this organization as there is so much good work that could be accomplished by the co-operation of these ladies. They are doing a noble work and are asking that those who can will assist by entering the organization and doing their bit.

Mrs. Noah Weaver, the pianist for the auxiliary, accompanied the singing of "America," which was led by Mrs. Holman, and the meeting adjourned.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Moeller in South Court street.

THE STILLMAN

Family Jar Ended, Reunited Couple Entour Abroad.

New York, Feb. 8.—(UP.)—A new touch of romance was added to the departure for Europe and "trial reconciliation" of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stillman today.

While they are on the liner Olympic enroute to Paris, Mrs. H. P. Davison, daughter of Mrs. Stillman, is also bound for the French capital, where she will meet her father and mother.

Mrs. Davison and her husband sailed from India some two weeks ago, it was learned at the Davison estate here today. They should reach Paris soon after the reunited Stillmans arrive. Mrs. Davison has consistently stood by her father during the marital trials of the father and mother during the past five years. The older boys of the family have shown their sympathy for Mrs. Stillman. They were apprised of the reconciliation and Alexander had dinner with his father and mother before they sailed. Now the daughter is returning from India to meet her re-united parents for the first time.

Plans of the Davisons, as learned here today, were to return to this country about March 15. They left here in October for an extended vacation. Stillman informed the United Press aboard the Olympic that he and his wife might return to this country with the Davisons. If the plans of both parties are carried out therefore, it would appear that the Stillmans will not remain for an extended time on the continent.

JOY-RIDE ENDS IN LAURELVILLE BARBER'S ARREST

Father of Young Girl Brings Charges—Said To Have Fired At Machine.

Beech Karshner, Laurelville barber, was arrested last evening at his shop by Deputy Sheriff Chapman and brought to Lancaster to answer charges of contributing to the delinquency of two girls aged 15 and 17 living near Clearport.

The charges were filed by the father of one of the girls who alleges that Karshner took the girls joy-riding, Thursday evening, for immoral purposes. It is said that the father attempted to stop the joy riders by firing a gun at the machine, but his efforts were unsuccessful.

Karshner pled not guilty when arraigned, this morning, in Judge Snider's court and his hearing was set for Tuesday. He was returned to jail when unable to furnish the $500 bond.—Lancaster Eagle.

Wild Dogs Are Aim of Big Game Hunter

New York.—Harold White of Scarsdale, who recently returned from a hunting and collecting trip in Asia and Africa, will start out again next month on a three-year expedition embracing both continents, the principal purpose of which is to round up for the American Museum of Natural History and the New York Zoological park in the Bronx specimens of a species of wild dog known in the Arussi mountains, between Italian and British Somaliland, as the yeh.

The yeh, which probably is a variety of the hyena dog, is a huge, high-shouldered, implacable creature which hunts in packs. Mr. White has a personal as well as a scientific interest in the yeh, as on his recent trip a pack of the animals treed him and all his bearers and it was not until Mr. White, shooting from his perch, had picked off every wild dog that any of the fugitives could descend.

BUSINESS IS ON UPGRADE

Cleveland, Feb. 8.—(UP.)—Having escaped the usual holiday lull, business in general throughout the Fourth Federal Reserve District, is on the upgrade, says the monthly review of the Cleveland Reserve bank, published today.

"Some recessions have taken place in iron and steel," the report declares, "but these were offset by strengthening gains in other industries."

The building industry, according to the review, for the ninth successive month, broke all records for corresponding periods.

Retail trade, as measured by department store sales, was the largest in history.

A new record for automobile production was established also while savings deposits in district banks increased 0.2 per cent. Bank clearings increased 9.4 per cent.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

"A very difficult question," the President calls the traffic casualties of the time. The figures that he cites—24,000 persons killed in a year upon the streets and highways of the country, and probably more than 500,000 injured. This means that over a period of the same length as our participation in the world war Americans are losing three-fourths as many lives on streets and roads as they lost to German bullets, and running up in addition a non-fatal casualty list thrice as great as they did abroad.

"The president has asked all the governors to appoint delegates to a national safety convention to assemble in March. While we know of no formula to meet the situation he has outlined the conference may write history by focusing public attention on the national aspects of a problem made up of a multitude of incidents at street corners and cross roads. Many communities are at work seeking and applying remedies.

The figures set forth in this article certainly ought to be a very convincing argument for

WORLD'S ONLY RADIO TOURING BUREAU IS RULED BY A WOMAN

So far has woman traveled from her place in the home that now she has even become dictator to the open highway! Miss Nina Baker is only 25 years old, but she is a recognized authority on motor travel information anywhere in the United States.

Radio appealed to Miss Baker as the most satisfactory way of conducting an up-to-the-minute travel service, so now she is directing the only radio tourist bureau in the world. This clearing house of automobile travel information is the Stewart-Warner Touring Bureau, and will be broadcast over WBBM, Chicago. WBBM operates on a 226 meter wave length. Branch stations of the Bureau will be established in fifty-two cities in the United States and Canada.

Radio talks will be given over WBBM several times a week. Every phase of motor traveling will be considered: how to dress; keeping physically fit while motoring; traffic laws in the different states; weather forecasts; where to camp, and how to estimate the cost of your trip.

The Stewart-Warner Touring Bureau also broadcasts an invitation for all listeners who plan trips to send in for free road maps and charts and any special information they want.

Affiliations have been established with more than 2,000 motor clubs, chambers of commerce, garages, hotels, resorts, and other travel information bureaus, whose resources will be available for tourists applying to the Bureau.

New Laced Hose Shows Bare Skin

HERE you are, girls, the very newest thing in clocks.

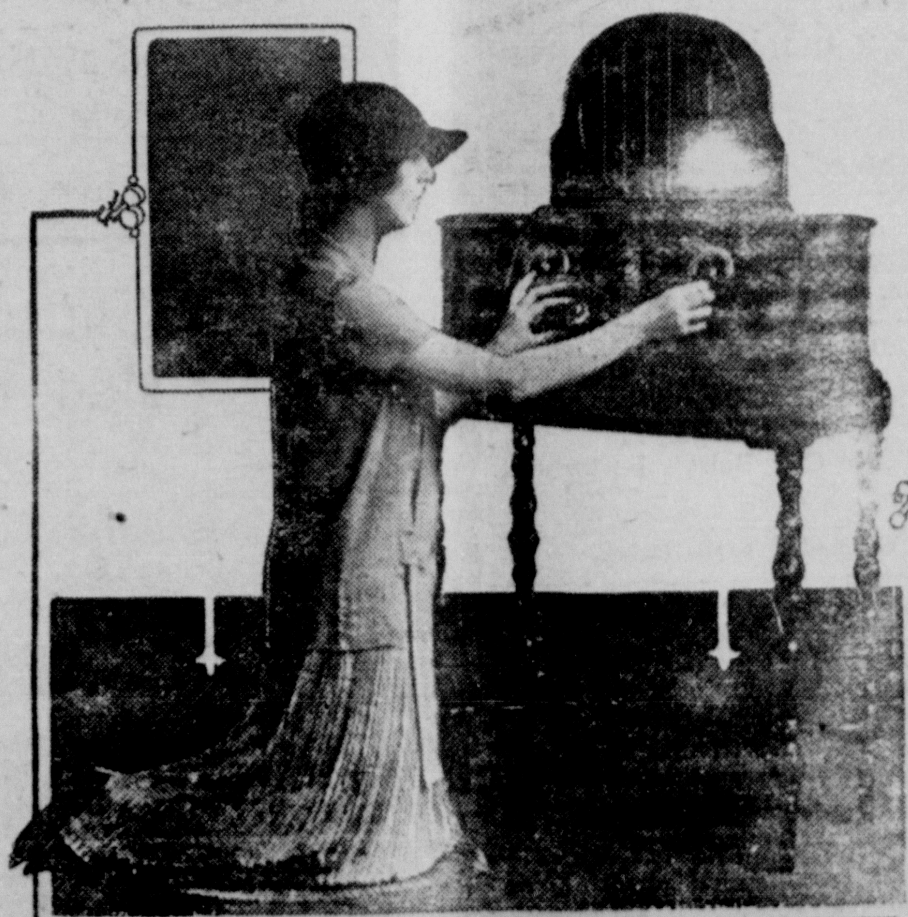

No, we do not mean timepieces, either. We are now discussing the very latest fad from Hollywood which was introduced recently by Sally O'Neill, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, whose latest production is "Sally, Irene and Mary." You are not in it this year unless you have at least one pair of the new laced stockings. A side piece on each side has been cut out of the stocking. This is bound with dainty lace and ribbon crisscrosses up the side of the leg, ending in a tiny bow at the top.

The bare skin shows through and makes an attractive black and white effect. "But don't stand in any drafts," says Miss O'Neill "when you are wearing these stockings, or you're apt to catch cold."

Charleston dancers find that these hose give inspiration for bigger and better Charleston steps.

FOLLOW THE CROWD

Some firms advertise by mailing circulars. Pickaway County has about 5,000 homes. Circulars mailed to each home costs the sender about $150.

Money spent in this manner must be added to the overhead expense and the customer pays that expense.

The Circleville Welding Co.'s policy has always been to reduce expense and give the customer the benefit of the saving. Having been in business for the past six years we need no introduction. All the leading industries of Circleville and the many surrounding towns have their work done here. Why not you. We don't do a cheap job merely to meet competition but do you a real 100 percent job at a reasonable price as possible.

Welding and brazing is our business, nothing else. Bring your next job here and compare the difference in workmanship.

The time is passed when the measure of the value of a memorial is quantity. I hope the time has come when that measure is quality. I care not whether the material be marble or granite, its future will be measured by the character of the design. It is quality that has preserved for us the finest examples in painting and sculpture. It is quality that will stamp our imprint upon cemeteries of the future. Simplicity, correct lines and proportions and proper ornamentation are the real fundamentals. A design that is right, material that is lasting and perfect workmanship, spells success for the future of this industry and the beautification of the cemetery. Will you let me help you select the memorial for your lot. Call at show room. NO AGENTS.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE.

One of the offices to be filled at the coming fall election is that of secretary of state, a position which has vastly increased in importance in recent years owing to the fact that the automobile department is one of its divisions, and because of the fact that the secretary is the chief election officer of the state.

One of the candidates for the Republican nomination for this place is Joseph E. Cross, who is well known to many of our people and they would be pleased to see him secure the position to which he aspires.

Mr. Cross has, despite many difficulties, been quite successful in all his undertakings; due, no doubt, to his sterling character, his ability and unflinching kindness and courtesy.

In his early career, he was active in the teaching profession and as editor of newspapers at West Union and Portsmouth. He served as state supervisor of public printing under Governor Willis and later was an instructor in the Columbus Business college until elected clerk of the Ohio senate some years ago, and to which responsible position he was elected each time without opposition.

As clerk of the Ohio senate, he has made many friends thruout the state by his amiability, his knowledge of the duties of the office and his willingness to serve.

Mr. Cross has been an active worker all his life and has served his party as a member of county, district and state committees. In the campaigns of 1922 and 1924, he was selected by the state executive committee to manage the legislative campaign in Ohio, and his thoroughness and effectiveness are reflected in the results in those years.

In 1922 Governor Donahey was elected by a plurality of about 18,000 votes while in the general assembly, both house and senate, 134 Republicans and 31 Democrats were elected. In 1924 the Republicans elected 143 members and the Democrats elected only 22, notwithstanding the fact that Governor Donahey was reelected by a plurality of 175,000.

Mr. Cross is a splendid Christian man, who practices in his daily life his preachments. He is competent, industrious, thoroly dependable and would make a first class secretary of state.

His work has brought him in direct contact with active, representative, influential people in every nook and corner of the state. The number of his friends is only limited by the number of persons who have had the pleasure of meeting him.

He is admirably fitted for the performance of the onerous duties of the office, would make an ideal candidate and an ideal secretary of state.

The writer has known this candidate for many years and expresses the hope that the Republicans may make him their nominee in August, with the assurance that they will never have cause to regret their action.

Ancient Needlework

The earliest example of needlework known to exist comes from the tomb of a Pharaoh 1500 years before the Christian era, and there are specimens of Greek work dating from twelve centuries later.

HARTMAN THEATER.

The joy of an engagement of mystery will soon be ours, for Thurston, the master magician, will be the attraction at the Hartman theater, Columbus, for the week commencing Monday, February 15, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Many a tired business man or a busy mother will be routed out of their easy chairs and sent wandering off to the theater surrounded by a brood of youngsters determined to bring home either a pigeon or a rabbit as a present from Thurston, who is conceded to be the greatest exponent of the art of necromancy and the most plausible and delightful trickster of the entertainment world today.

Thurston has stood alone at the head of his chosen profession for numerous years and is now making his twentieth annual tour with his wonder show of the universe for such it is; because of the fact that the ideas for his wondrous illusions and deceptions are gathered from the remote corners of the world. These ideas have been brought to a state of perfection by the famous magician and will soon be offered for your delectation.

Thurston's new program is the most pretentious of any previously offered and contains thrills, laughter and mystery and will be presented by the largest company ever assembled to support a master magician and numbers thirty-five individuals, many of whom are pretty girls, and with gorgeous scenic array of extravagance and beauty, paraphernalia, animals, etc. that require three sixty-foot baggage cars greatly enhance the many and varied mysteries included in his program, as: "The Great East Indian Rope Trick," "Broadcasting a Woman," "The Phantom," "The Human Cannon Ball," "The Vanishing Horse and Rider," "Crushing a Woman," "The Mystic Follies," "The Vanishing Donkey," "The Human Pin Cushion," "The Elastic Lady," "The Phantom Princess" who floats out over the stage into the orchestra, then vanishing like a cloud in thin air, and one hundred other mysteries.

IN MEMORIAM

Editor Union-Herald:—Alonzo Eugene Weaver, son of David F. and Amanda Cole Weaver, was born January 19, 1852, in Walnut township, Pickaway county, Ohio, and departed from this life February 2, 1926, aged 74 years and 14 days.

On September 10, 1874, he was united in marriage to Catherine Oman of Walnut township, who died November 1, 1901. To this union three daughters were born; Mrs. George Marion, Mrs. Walter Marion, of Circleville, and Mrs. Loren Ater, of Atlanta. Mr. Weaver was united in marriage to Mrs. Julia Peterson August 7, 1913, who was his constant companion during his last illness.

He joined the Methodist Episcopal church at Hedges chapel when a young man, under the pastorate of Rev. Westervelt and continued a faithful member until death called him home. After finishing high school at Circleville, he graduated at Lebanon college. Mr. Weaver was always interested in every good cause and held several important offices in the community in which he lived. At the time of his death he was president of the Ashville Grain company, president of the Farmers' Mutual Insurance company and director of the Citizens' bank at Ashville. He was also a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge at Circleville for fifty-two years. He was one of the older members of this lodge.

Mr. Weaver leaves besides his widow and daughters, three grandchildren; Alonzo Marion, Jerald Marion and Catherine Marion. Of his immediate family, one sister, Mrs. Lydia Brinker, of Walnut township, survives, and a host of relatives and friends.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our husband and father and for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Julia Weaver and Daughters.

Foxes Love Cheese

Cheese is good, hearty food, and most animals that are not herbivorous will eat it whenever they get a chance, but it is surprising to learn, from a writer in Field and Stream, that a captive fox can be coaxed into eating cheese, even when every other attempt to tease his appetite fails.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

C. E. Roof and Miss Jane Sweetman attended a birthday dinner given by Mrs. Jennie Cooper, of 23 West Second street, Columbus today.

Saturday evening, February 6, a number of young folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Kerns to surprise their daughter, Florence, the occasion being her 18th birthday anniversary. The evening was spent with music and games. Miss Kerns received many nice and useful presents. Those who were present to enjoy the occasion were Misses Marcela Hampshire, Helen Anderson, Mary Valentine, Dorothy Anderson, Eva Bookwalter, Mary O. Leary, Freda Bowden and Hazel Kerns, Wilbur Pontius, Roy Leist, Renick Valentine, Floyd Arledge, Sam Creachbaum, Gus Valentine, George Wright, Leonard Graves, Bruce Valentine, Harry Arledge, John Rittinger, Harry Wright, Russell Leist and Harold Pontius. Lunch was served and at a late hour all departed wishing Miss Kerns many more happy birthday anniversaries.

Elizabeth Sines and sisters gave an old-fashioned taffy pulling for their friends Wednesday night, February 3 at their home near Robtown. An enjoyable evening was spent in playing games and pulling taffy. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sines, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Hill and daughter, Evelyn, Misses Lula and Irene O'Hara, Dorothy and Roberta Koch, Georgia Huston, Frances Whaley, Bernice and Ruth Rowe and Eva Wilkins; Messrs. Nelson Florence, Howard Koch, Ned Walker, Enos and Glenn Fausnaugh, Frank Noggle, Loring and Weldon Hill and Grant Sines. All reported a good time.

A number of friends of William Kinney gathered at his home, 430 East Union street, Tuesday evening and tendered him a surprise in honor of his 37th birthday anniversary. The evening was pleasantly spent. Caris was the diversion and a delicious lunch was served. Those present were Mrs. George W. Kinney, Miss Clara Kinney, Frank W. Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Karshner, Mr. and Mrs. William Bartles, Mr. and Mrs. John Bartles and family, Mrs. Anna Chandler and daughter, Ursula, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Swearingen and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fohl.

At the regular monthly session of the Von Bora society held in the social rooms of the church Monday evening a program as follows was rendered:

Five Minute Talk on the Life of Lincoln..... Lucy Seal
Five Minute Talk on the Life of Washington..... Grace Bowers
Piano Solo..... Helen Pickens
Evangelism..... George Griffith
Vocal Solo..... Mrs. Elmer Wolf

A social hour followed the program during which refreshments were served by the committee.

Apes and Monkeys

The terms "ape" and "monkey" are frequently used interchangeably; all monkeys are called apes and all apes are called monkeys. But the term "ape" is more particularly applied to the tall, manlike monkeys of the old world, such as the chimpanzee; while "monkey" is more often used when speaking of the smaller aboreal monkeys.—Pathfinder Magazine.

To Dry Out Wet Boots

The quickest and best way to dry out wet hunting boots is to heat a pan of oats or small pebbles. Get them good and warm, not red hot. Pour them into the boots and let them stand for a half hour. At the end of this time all of the moisture will have been taken out and the boots are ready to wear. Don't forget that when the dew is heavy in the morning or slush snow covers the ground.

Felt for Chair Legs

Felt glued on the ends of the chair legs will prevent them from marring the polished floor. Also this simple device will do away with the scraping noise chairs generally make when moved about. There are rubber caps manufactured for this purpose, but the felt will be found easier to attach, as it can be cut to any size. Long strips also can be cut to fit the rockers of rocking chairs.

First Auctioneer

It is stated that Elihu Yale was the first man in England to conduct a sale by auction. Elihu Yale, the founder of Yale college, was buried July 22, 1721. Yale at one time was governor of Madras.

Latest Diving Suit

The German diving suit used in locating the British submarine M-1 is a rigid suit made of aluminum alloy; the arms and legs are jointed, the joints being made on the ball-and-socket principle. The entire outfit weighs about half a ton and is able to withstand a pressure up to 25 atmospheres, equal to a depth of 750 feet, under test. It is connected with the surface by a light cable containing three independent telephone lines. Inside the suit there is a normal pressure of one atmosphere all the time, therefore it is not necessary to raise the diver by slow stages. The diver also wears over his mouth a mask containing a cartridge which absorbs the carbonic acid, and so enables him to breathe the same air over and over again.

Boston Needed It

A young woman from Indiana who was visiting her married sister in Boston was the guest of honor at a dinner party. During the first and second courses of the dinner she was the center of the conversation with her glowing descriptions of the beauties of her own state. When, for the third course of the dinner, the servant entered carrying a huge fish on a large platter, a Boston lawyer turned to her and said:

"Now you must admit that Indiana is a back number. Who ever saw an Indiana fish of that size?"
"Oh, that's all right," she replied, "the Lord in His infinite wisdom put the brain food where it was most needed."

Boots—Boots—Boots—Boots—
Forty Thousand Million of 'Em

Section — six — eleven — five — nine — an — twenty —

Taint — so — bad — by — day — because o' company.
But — right — away — jump — strings — o' forty — thousand million.
Boots — boots — boots — boots — movin' up an' down again.
From Rudyard Kipling's "Boots."

Kipling now adds the palm of fashion prophesy to his poetic harp. For it's boots—kid boots—forty the end million of an—

black kid boots, tan kid boots, colored kid boots, tall kid boots, short kid boots—the sundry and diverse rodents mobilized by Mr. Pied Piper have nothing in the variety of kid boots now movin' up an' down in Paris, London, New York and, shortly, no doubt, in points west. —But there is reason as well as prophesy to Kipling's post-prandial recitative masterpiece. For these boots not only protect delicate feminine history from the boisterous assaults of rain, snow, and slush, not only accentuate by contrast and reveal by concealment, but by virtue of a diversity of colors, patterns, and trimmings, the boots supply a harmonious note of novelty, beauty, and allurements to be of some use.

In short, the drab utility of the ugly canvas goshawk seems to have capitulated to the double desirability of the leather boot, which, because of its beauty is likewise proudly worn while the sun shines and all is dry underfoot. So far in America, only a few of the elite can afford the high prices charged. Needless to remark, however, enterprising American manufacturers are approaching a state of mild frenzy in a scramble to get in quickly on a popular "killing." It is reported by cable dispatch in the New York Sun—"The kid boot craze has set British factories working overtime." 1,500,000 pairs are reported to have been made in London alone.

The Thrifty Housewife

It was Benjamin Franklin, the great apostle of thrift, who first emphasized the point that true thrift lies in getting the best value—not merely for one's money, but for one's time as well. This might, indeed, be called "the higher thrift," and the modern woman is rapidly learning to readjust her standard of values to get in line with it. The establishment of an annual Thrift Week, beginning on January 17th, which is Franklin's birthday indicates a general acceptance of his philosophy of thrift.

Real thrift is not going without, but making the most of things—our talents, our money, our time. The thrifty housewife learns to spend her money judiciously. She saves on her food budget by getting the best values for her money, and she soon discovers that ready-to-serve foods offer her one of the best forms of thrift.

She has learned that ready-to-serve foods are a real economy not only of money, but of time and labor. So she buys in a varied supply of them, and selects what she wants from her canned food shelf. She seasons them, adds butter, eggs or cream, and explains them with other foods, such as bread and cracker crumbs, etc., ad infinitum. There is almost no limit to the tasty combinations that may be made of these prepared foods.

She will particularly learn to use the good, old staples, such as corn, peas, tomatoes and string beans, making out of them many a savory, wholesome and economical dish. These might be termed The Old Guard among vegetables, but there are others almost as essential to the daily menu—baked beans, spaghetti, cornish, sauerkraut, beets, pumpkin and sweet potatoes. All of these are high in food value.

These foods are particularly economical in carved form, because the great demand for them enables the canners to pack and sell them in large quantities, at a very small profit per can. At first thought, it may seem to the housewife that it is cheaper for her to buy fresh sweet potatoes and "candy" them, then to buy the ready-prepared product in canned form. This is true, if she is ready to cook the sweet potatoes on the day she buys them. But if she keeps them on hand for several days, they spoil and must be thrown away. She must take into consideration the saving of time represented by the sweet potatoes in tins.

The many savory dishes which may be made from the ready-to-serve staples permit the housewife much variety in her daily menus. Corn, for instance, may be sauté with chopped green peppers, which also may be had in canned form. Or, if there is any mashed potato left over, delicious croquettes may be made by mixing it with ready-to-serve corn. The possibilities are infinite.

Perhaps one of the strongest incentives to buying food in tins is the fact that there is no waste in them. There are no peelings, no rinds, no cores, no spoilage. All the parts which cannot be eaten have been eliminated before the food went into the cans. There is nothing to be thrown away, as in the case of fresh foods.

To the modern woman time-saving has a very definite, economical value. The hours which she would otherwise have to spend in the various details of the preparation and cooking of foods, the ready-to-serve products permit her to devote to the social, mental and spiritual needs of her family, and to participate in the world's work along various important lines.

PLANS PROTECTION OF BENEFICIARIES

William Raduszis of Cleveland, Ohio, has been sentenced to serve from three to ten years in the penitentiary for embezzling from his brother, John, an insane World War veteran, $11,372.42 paid as disability compensation by the government.

Investigation was started last spring by the Cuyahoga county council of the American Legion. The embezzlement was discovered by Louis Laeger, rehabilitation officer at the government hospital at Chillicothe, Ohio, where John Raduszis is confined.

Mr. Laeger made inquiries as to why no money was received at the hospital to pay for incidentals for the insane man. Then investigation was started by the Legion organization, which led to the arrest and conviction of William Raduszis, who had been named as the brother's guardian. About $2,000 was recovered and will be conserved in the estate of the veteran.

Such conditions in the affairs of guardians of mentally incompetent veterans and minor orphans and others who are beneficiaries of the United States veterans' bureau are being constantly uncovered by the Legion and the national guardianship service of the veterans' bureau, which have been co-operating in a strict investigation of the guardianships.

Shell-shocked veterans are confined without care in many instances, the investigation is revealing. War orphans are neglected and hungry, while their guardians have been buying furs and automobiles with funds paid for the benefit of these wards of the government.

Plans are being considered by the Legion for setting up a state judge advocates system which will provide in every county an attorney who will guard the interests of bureau beneficiaries. Such a system is already in very successful operation in Illinois.

"A very large percentage of those who were originally appointed as guardians of bureau beneficiaries were not qualified for the trust," Maj. David G. Arnold, national guardianship officer of the veterans' bureau, says. "When called on recently to account for the administration of their trusts, they were unable to do so. Insufficient bonds, in some cases none at all, were given. Sureties were often of no responsibility. In many cases, as a result, the beneficiary has lost all the money that was paid by the government to the guardian for his account."

Forty-Acre Tract Used for Legion Playground

"Inspiration Home in God's Country." That is what they are calling the first completed unit of the first national playground of the American Legion. The camp is in the Legion's 40-acre tract in the San Isabel forest near Pueblo, Colo. It was recently dedicated.

The government set aside on request the 40-acre plot in the forest for the exclusive use of the Legion. The camp was established and is being operated by posts of the Legion at Westcliffe, Pueblo, Alamosa, Walsenburg, Florence, Canon City, Trinidad and Center.

Libraries for Hospitals

Installation of a complete library service in every hospital under the control of the United States Veterans' bureau is contemplated by Director Frank T. Hines, according to information received by the national rehabilitation committee of the American Legion. Legion officials were largely instrumental in this step in the interest of the disabled.

Truly Rural

The guest from the city was enjoying his first meal on the farm. "What delicious beans!" he commented. "But I suppose they meant many hot hours in the fields." "You let them did," said his host. Lesson for February 14

JESUS, THE GOOD SHEPHERD

LESSON TEXT—John 10:1-30.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I am the good shepherd, the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep."—John 10:11.

PRIMARY TEXT—The Good Shepherd and His Sheep.
JUNIOR TEXT—Jesus the Good Shepherd.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TEXT—What the Good Shepherd Does for His Sheep.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TEXT—Many Sheep, but One Shepherd.

The relationship of the Messiah to His own is set forth in the Old Testament under the figure of the shepherd and his sheep. (Ps. 23, Ez. 34).

1. The Good Shepherd (vv. 1-18).
1. He is the True Shepherd (vv. 1-6).

He came by the divinely appointed way. The power exercised by the Pharisees in casting out this man was not obtained by lawful means. It was stolen by them and exercised in the bold spirit of robbers. John the Baptist, and others of the prophets, had performed the function of the porter and opened the door to the Shepherd (v. 23). Despite the deceit, audacity, theft and robbery of these Pharisees, those who were Christ's sheep were declared to be forming a new flock and following Him as the true Shepherd (v. 4). The reason the man suffered excommunication for Jesus' sake was that he recognized Him as the true Shepherd and the Pharisees as strangers.

2. He is the Door of the Sheep (vv. 7-10).

The way to fellowship to God is through Christ. He is the only door (Acts 4:12). There is absolutely no way to get into the fold of the redeemed but by Him. All who attempt it are thieves and robbers (v. 8). Those who become members of the flock through Him enjoy marvelous gifts (vv. 9, 10).

(1) Salvation—"Shall be saved." Not only saved now but saved eternally (vv. 27, 28).

(2) Liberty—"Shall go in and out" (v. 9).

Only those who accept salvation in Christ know what freedom is.

(3) Contentment—"Shall go in and out and find pasture" (v. 9).

The one who really enters the fold by Christ, the door, receives that which is all-satisfying to the soul.

3. He is the Good Shepherd (vv. 11-18).

He is so devoted to His sheep that He willingly lays down His life for them. The hireling abandons his sheep in time of danger. The Good Shepherd has perfect knowledge of His sheep and they know Him (vv. 14, 15). He enjoys such personal intimacy with His sheep that He knows them by name and goes before them to lead the way and defend them from every danger. This He will do even unto death. On Calvary this was historically fulfilled. It was Christ's love for such sheep as this poor blind man that caused Him to give up His life in order to find for them the abundant life (v. 10). This sympathy is world-wide—"other sheep I have which are not of this fold." This suggests that the Gentiles have a place in His fold. All who believe in Christ form one flock. In order to save His sheep He voluntarily laid down His life (vv. 17, 18).

11. The Sheep (vv. 19-30).
1. Unbelievers Are Not His Sheep (vv. 19-26).

Christ's assertion that He was the good shepherd caused a division among the people. Some accused Him of being mad, others that He had a devil. To their request that He would tell them plainly if He were the Christ, He referred them to the testimony of His works, declaring that the secret of their inability to recognize Him was their unbelief.

2. They Recognize His Voice (v. 4).
There are many voices in the world, the voice of the hireling, the voice of the thief and the voice of the stranger, but none of these will the sheep hear. The voice of the true Shepherd is recognized by His sheep even amidst the babel of voices in the world today.

3. His Sheep Follow Him (vv. 3, 27).
This is the proof that they are His. The one who does not hear, heed, and obey the Lord's voice is clearly not His sheep. His sheep have unquestioned faith in His ability to lead them.

4. His Sheep Are Eternally Secure (vv. 27, 28).

The sheep are entirely dependent upon the Shepherd. It is the Shepherd's business to look after and care for the sheep. This He does for He knows them by name and is acquainted with their weaknesses and trials.

The Real Blessing

The real blessing, mercy, satisfaction, is not in the having or the lack of merely outward things, but in the consciousness that the true source of life and happiness is deeper than all these.—John W. Chadwick.

As a face is made beautiful by the soul's shining through it, so the world is beautiful by the shining through it of a loving God. Happy the man who has eyes to see the shining.

INTERESTING LUMBER TALK BY LOCAL MAN

T. O. Gilliland Addressed the Chamber of Commerce on His Industry.

Tuesday evening at the chamber of commerce, T. O. Gilliland, of the Circleville Lumber company, on Edison avenue, told the audience something about his company.

The Circleville Lumber company, said the speaker, was established here in 1912, just a year before the flood and while the company did not provide Noah with the timber to build the ark, it has since furnished lumber and building material for some of the best and most beautiful homes in rejuvenated Circleville.

The company operates as an independent concern, with its main office in this city, selling lumber roofing and building material and operates a planing mill in connection with its lumber yard. The company is a member of the Ohio Association of Retail Lumber dealers and also a member of The Peter Kuntz Associated Lumbermen.

It is a misunderstanding, that we are only a line yard controlled by outside capital. Our common stock is all held by myself and our association with the Kuntz company is only a means to an end. First for buying purposes and being associated with 75 or 80 other lumber yards our power is multiplied many times and we are assured better service from mills and factories.

The association was fostered by Peter Kuntz, of Dayton, and is the only one of its kind in existence. It has certain rules and conditions that each member must live up to, good sheds and building stock kept neat and orderly. Mr. Kuntz was the pioneer who made it possible for any young man with limited capital to follow lumbering as a business and succeed.

In our plant on Edison avenue we employ from seven to ten men and we are quite sure that our stock is as complete or even more so than the average lumber yard of any city regardless of size. We operate two delivery trucks and a trailer. We not only sell lumber, but we have a plan service and when desired will furnish estimates on any building complete and ready to move into. Our planing mill is equipped to do all kinds of wood work and cabinet work and also to build truck bodies and cabs.

Now, as to the possible outlook for the future. So far as I can see, there is no rosy prospect peeping over the horizon for the lumber business in this community, yet we have a right to expect the usual steady demand. Like all other businesses the lumber trade has plenty of competition and there are generally too many yards in a given territory, but Circleville can support two yards, not too big; but two medium sized outfits can get along very nicely. However, a man hopeful of getting rich should stay out of the lumber business.

The chamber of commerce can help the lumber business in this city in more ways than one. Folks, as a whole, have shown lack of appreciation of the value of a good lumber yard, and I am quite sure it is because they have never learned just what such a business does for their community.

The modern lumber or building store is different from other businesses, the services of most retail stores and banks to the community is to live and save, but the service of a retail lumber yard to a community grows. A community to grow must have new homes and buildings and the real lumber man's job is not so much to sell his lumber as it is to make it easy for his customers to build. In passing I might say that this is fairly well taken care of by the lumber dealers of this city.

The fundamental principles that underlie the upbuilding of any city, is to believe in your home town. It has been the habit of the citizen who has made good here, when he quits business to dig out go to a larger city and live a retired life. If your town is good enough to live in, help build it up, build new homes. The price of lumber is not prohibitive. Your investment is safer than money invested in foreign stocks and the return in rentals is greater. Suppose a factory would knock at your doors, it would take ten years to provide suitable homes for a hundred families. Believe in your home town and the outsiders will come in uninvited, attracted by your enterprise.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION WORLD'S NEED

NOT ONE PROTESTANT CHILD OUT OF FIVE IS INSTRUCTED

Declared Rev. Charles R. Erdman of Princeton, N. J., Moderator of the Presbyterian Church Before An Assembly of 500 Presbyterians at the Neil House, Columbus, Tuesday Evening.

Religious education was stressed as the greatest need of the world by Rev. Charles Erdman, Princeton, New Jersey, moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly in an address before a gathering of 500 Presbyterians Tuesday night in the Neil House, Columbus.

"Our institutions were used first of all in training men for the ministry," Rev. Dr. Erdman declared. "We always have been eager to have young men and women educated in things concerning God."

"There never was a time in the history of our land when there was more need of just exactly that kind of education. Not one Protestant child out of five has any instruction of any kind in religion, and not one out of 10 has anything like a scientific course in religion."

"Recently I was in St. Louis and they had been taking census of 1900 high school children. It was discovered that 25 per cent did not know the name of the mother of our Lord nor the place where He was born, at least 20 per cent could not recite the first line of the Lord's prayer, more than 40 per cent did not know what was meant by the parable of the good Samaritan and a large number thought Paul was the name of a book in the New Testament."

Optimism in the outlook was voiced by Rev. Dr. Erdman in his declaration that "our great churches are beginning to show their new interest in religious education and they are using their superb structures for this work."

He specifically named the great institution at Utica, "where 62 rooms are being used for this work," the edifice at Birmingham, Alabama, where there are 101 rooms in connection with the church for this purpose and the church at Tulsa, where there are 102 rooms in conjunction with an auditorium having a seating capacity of 2000.

He said the Presbyterian church is uniting with the other denominations with forward movements in evangelistic and missionary work.

Rev. Dr. Erdman paid tribute to the church laymen upon whom the major portion of the work had fallen and who were in a large measure responsible for the success won. "It is the sympathy of the laymen that has kept many of us in the ministry," he declared.

With reference to denominationalism Rev. Dr. Erdman declared at the outset of his address that "he would be glad when the time comes, as it will in God's own time, when we are all just one great family of Christians."

The moderator was in a gay, genial mood, which, altho said to be a prevailing characteristic with him, was perhaps a surprise to many who expected a man of august and forbidding mien.

His address was interspersed with witticism and anecdotes which brought forth much laughter and frequent applause.

He admitted that when approached by a prominent member of his denomination and asked whether "he wasn't troubled with the questions before the church," he had answered that it wasn't the questions that troubled him half so much as the answers.

Doctrinal differences of the church in the church, in course of time, will be settled, he declared. He spoke of a number of the church doctrines, explained why they were and their meaning to the Presbyterians and concluded this part of his address by saying: "A person should select exactly the form he likes."

He referred to the proverbial sternness and undeviating course of Presbyterians, and told with apparent relish that he had it from sources "interesting but not authentic" that Harry Lee was the only man who was able by his conduct to make George Washington justified in swearing.

Presbyterians were urged to get out and fill their quota of souls brought into fellowship with Christ this year. The quota for the church is 130,000. The number brought into the church last year was 100,000 he said.

This picture shows the crowded shipping in Miami harbor. Yachts, motor boats and sailing ships of all descriptions are anchored almost bow to stern, and in addition large freighters are anchored outside the harbor, which is not deep enough to admit them.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From the Wires by Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Columbus.—Motion for a new trial was overruled by the state supreme court in the case of Cinderella M. Lang against the Lima State Hospital society.

The case, a damage suit filed by Mrs. Lang because of injuries she received while a patient at the hospital, was decided by the court of appeals of Allen county and was carried to the supreme court by Mrs. Lang.

The supreme court held that the hospital cannot be sued because it is a charitable institution.

Columbus.—James Watkins former Youngstown police chief lost his second appeal to the supreme court from his conviction for illegal possession of liquor.

Watkins was custodian of a Youngstown lodge which was raided by dry agents. The court held no constitutional question was involved and that Watkins was responsible for liquor being in the lodge rooms.

Dayton.—The St. Paul's Episcopal church for children is in the process of being dedicated with elaborate ceremonies, which began Monday night.

It is the only church of its kind in the United States and represents an investment of $50,000. There is a similar church in London, according to Rev. Phil Porter, pastor of Christ Episcopal church. The rector says he knows of no other children's church.

Fremont.—William Clark, youthful confessed slayer of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoffman, Helena farmers, was bound over to the Sandusky county grand jury when arraigned Tuesday before Justice of the Peace Frank N. Seager.

The grand jury will meet Thursday and an indictment charging first degree murder, will be returned, Prosecutor George E. Sheffer declared.

Cleveland.—Alleged interstate bootlegging activities of the Superior Industrial Alcohol company, involving former and present federal officials and scores of agents and customers of the company, will get under way formally tomorrow, United States District Attorney Bernstein announced. "Murder, graft and intrigue will feature the evidence as the amazing ramifications of the company's alleged illicit liquor traffic are revealed, Bernstein declared.

Miss Belle K. Huber, of the O. S. R. Home, Xenia, is in the city the guest of friends.

OCTOGENARIAN

Ira Hardman Gulick Died at His Home Tuesday—Funeral Services Thursday.

Ira Hardman Gulick died at his home, corner Huston and Maplewood avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The deceased had been ill for fifteen days.

He was born in Peoria, Illinois, May 30, 1843, and was a son of William N. and Calista Hillery Gulick. He came to this city in 1850 and followed farming as an occupation.

He married Miss Amelia Louise Wehe at Darbyville, February 16, 1871. His wife and six daughters survive. They are Mrs. May Sines, of Columbus; Mrs. Nellie Tipton, of Pataskala; Mrs. Ruth Powell, of Chicago, Illinois; Mrs. Alice Cady, of this city; Mrs. Leona Freshour, of Columbus, and Mrs. Pearl Bon, of South Amboy, New Jersey.

A half sister and a half brother are living; Nelson Trego, of Williamsport and Mrs. Alice Loofbourrow, of Clarksburg.

The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock at 215 South Scioto street at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alice Cady. Rev. E. A. Tovey will officiate. The hymn, "Face to Face," will be read. Burial in the Muhlenberg township cemetery at Darbyville.

The pallbearers will be William B. Cady, R. G. Freshour, W. S. Tipton, O. D. Powell, J. P. Whitehead and Ray Gulick.

PUBLIC SALE ATTENDED BY LARGE CROWD

Talmage Thomas, who has been a tenant on the George Steely farm in Washington township for the past several years held a public sale of his farm chattels Tuesday.

The attendance was good considering the very inclement weather and prices obtained were better than the average. Some of the maximum prices were as follows: Horses $135; cows $65; bull $85.50; brood sows $52; sixty pound shoats $12.10; hay 13 per ton; corn in crib 63½ cents per bushel; fodder 37 cents per shock; farming implements, harness, etc., selling in about the same proportions; sale totaling $2,520.4.

The hungry were well taken care of by the ladies of the Evangelical church of Stoutsville.

C. G. Chalfin auctioneer and J. D. Hummel, clerked.

Mr. Thomas has purchased a farm in Scioto township, adjoining the village of Commercial Point and will remove to same about March 1. D. E. Seitz will occupy the Steely farm that is being vacated by Mr. Thomas.

Columbus.—Harold Culbert, of Fremont, was appointed by Prohibition Administrator Porterfield to be group chief of the Cincinnati office, effective February 10.

HARDING HOME FOR MUSEUM OF EFFECTS

Of Late President and Wife --Present House too Small for Purpose.

Major Ora Baldinger, custodian of the Harding home at Marion, the residence of the late president and Mrs. Warren G. Harding, has presented a proposition to the Marion county Federation of Women's clubs as the starting of a movement to raise funds for erection of a building adjoining the Harding home in which to house the personal effects of the late president and his wife for exhibition purposes.

The plan was presented to the executive board of the federation at a special meeting Saturday night and in brief is this: The designation of the week of February 22 as Marion week during which all Marion people who wish may inspect the articles which are now ready for exhibition at the Harding home; the issuance of 3000 tickets to be sold at one dollar each for admission to the home that week; the sale of such tickets by members of the 20 or more clubs making up the federation; the starting of a permanent Harding museum fund with the proceeds which may be left after expenses of the week are paid.

Home Not Big Enough.

Major Baldinger, who occupies the home, is arranging and cataloguing the hundreds of articles, and says he will have all that the four large rooms of the home can contain ready for inspection by February 20. But the home cannot hold all the many personal belongings left by the Hardings as there are two carloads.

Major Baldinger says there was no special provision made for financing the museum in plans of the Harding Memorial association, so that it is necessary to obtain funds in other ways.

His plan includes the raising of a permanent endowment fund which would provide for maintaining the museum after it is conducted and opened, including a permanent guard to protect the many valuable articles. When this endowment is provided, the museum would be opened to the public without charge. Until it is, he would charge a nominal admission fee to all visitors.

WHEAT FUTURES ON DECLINE

Chicago, Feb. 8.—(UP.)—Heavy selling caused a sharp break in wheat on the Chicago board of trade today.

May wheat, new, closed at $1.69 3/4 a bushel, a loss of 4 7/8 cents from the previous close. May wheat, old, lost 5 cents and the July delivery dropped from two to two and three-quarter cents.

Corn and oats were affected, losses ranging from 1 7/8 to 2 1/4 c.

The drop was due to an over-bought condition, brokers said.

More than sixty per cent of all commodities distributed today are sold on the monthly payment plan. From this figure it is evident that business has geared itself to the income basis of the consumer. The carrying charge on this vast turnover is reasonable, and yields a fair average return. But sacrificed payments and repossessed radios, phonographs, furniture, pianos and autos tell the grim story of contracts drawn entirely in favor of the seller.

The safe, sure way to buy an article on a monthly payment basis is to borrow the money under the popular City Loan Plan where the contract is in the borrower's favor, and deal for cash. We know how to take care of cases of adversity too, which is not a bad thing to keep in mind when you are making promises about the future.

CO-RECEIVERS NAMED FOR KROPP SHOE COMPANY

Edward C. Turner and Perl S. Miller Appointed Under $25,000 Bond By U. S. Judge.

Columbus, Feb. 9.—Edward C. Turner and Perl S. Miller were named co-receivers under $25,000 bond each for the Kropp Shoe Manufacturing Co., 309 South Fourth street, yesterday by Federal Judge Hough.

The receivers were instructed to continue operations temporarily and to report as soon as a thorough investigation has been made whether the property can be operated profitably or should be disposed of to satisfy creditors.

Indications are the concern may not be solvent, Judge Hough was told. The building is mortgaged for $100,000, delinquent income tax and interest due is about $93,000 and other claims total approximately $128,000, officials of the company said. The company is capitalized for $300,000.

Mr. Miller's appointment was favored by the Commercial National Bank, which has a claim of $46,000 against the company, and Mr. Turner was favored by the U. S. Leather Co., with a claim of $17,000.

Receivership was sought by the leather company, following the suicide last Wednesday of William Kropp, president of the shoe concern.

REGULAR MEETING

Last evening Mrs. A. A. Parrett, president of the Auxiliary to the American Legion was hostess to that organization at her home in East Main street. The members are co-operating and attending the meetings very nicely and there was quite a large attendance at last night's meeting.

The treasurer's report showed a very nice return from the soup sale that was held last Thursday and it was decided that since this sale was such a success it would be a weekly affair, for a time at least. This was decided after numerous members reported that they had been requested to do so. It was also decided to make more soup this time as the supply last Thursday was by no means sufficient, numerous persons being turned away. The sale this week will be on Thursday again and vegetable soup will be the bill of fare.

The matter of new members to the Auxiliary was also taken up and several names presented of ladies who are eligible and who will be solicited within the next two weeks. It is hoped to enroll all those who are eligible to this organization as there is so much good work that could be accomplished by the co-operation of these ladies. They are doing a noble work and are asking that those who can will assist by entering the organization and doing their bit.

Mrs. Noah Weaver, the pianist for the auxiliary, accompanied the singing of "America," which was led by Mrs. Holman, and the meeting adjourned.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Moeller in South Court street.

THE STILLMAN

Family Jar Ended, Reunited Couple Entour Abroad.

New York, Feb. 8.—(UP.)—A new touch of romance was added to the departure for Europe and "trial reconciliation" of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stillman today.

While they are on the liner Olympic enroute to Paris, Mrs. H. P. Davison, daughter of Mrs. Stillman, is also bound for the French capital, where she will meet her father and mother.

Mrs. Davison and her husband sailed from India some two weeks ago, it was learned at the Davison estate here today. They should reach Paris soon after the reunited Stillmans arrive. Mrs. Davison has consistently stood by her father during the marital trials of the father and mother during the past five years. The older boys of the family have shown their sympathy for Mrs. Stillman. They were apprised of the reconciliation and Alexander had dinner with his father and mother before they sailed. Now the daughter is returning from India to meet her re-united parents for the first time.

Plans of the Davisons, as learned here today, were to return to this country about March 15. They left here in October for an extended vacation. Stillman informed the United Press aboard the Olympic that he and his wife might return to this country with the Davisons. If the plans of both parties are carried out therefore, it would appear that the Stillmans will not remain for an extended time on the continent.

JOY-RIDE ENDS IN LAURELVILLE BARBER'S ARREST

Father of Young Girl Brings Charges—Said To Have Fired At Machine.

Beech Karshner, Laurelville barber, was arrested last evening at his shop by Deputy Sheriff Chapman and brought to Lancaster to answer charges of contributing to the delinquency of two girls aged 15 and 17 living near Clearport.

The charges were filed by the father of one of the girls who alleges that Karshner took the girls joy-riding, Thursday evening, for immoral purposes. It is said that the father attempted to stop the joy riders by firing a gun at the machine, but his efforts were unsuccessful.

Karshner pled not guilty when arraigned, this morning, in Judge Snider's court and his hearing was set for Tuesday. He was returned to jail when unable to furnish the $500 bond.—Lancaster Eagle.

Wild Dogs Are Aim of Big Game Hunter

New York.—Harold White of Scarsdale, who recently returned from a hunting and collecting trip in Asia and Africa, will start out again next month on a three-year expedition embracing both continents, the principal purpose of which is to round up for the American Museum of Natural History and the New York Zoological park in the Bronx specimens of a species of wild dog known in the Arussi mountains, between Italian and British Somaliland, as the yeha.

The yeha, which probably is a variety of the hyena dog, is a huge, high-shouldered, implacable creature which hunts in packs. Mr. White has a personal as well as a scientific interest in the yeha, as on his recent trip a pack of the animals treed him and all his bearers and it was not until Mr. White, shooting from his perch, had picked off every wild dog that any of the fugitives could descend.

BUSINESS IS ON UPGRADE

Cleveland, Feb. 8.—(UP.)—Having escaped the usual holiday lull, business in general throughout the Fourth Federal Reserve District, is on the upgrade, says the monthly review of the Cleveland Reserve bank, published today.

"Some recessions have taken place in iron and steel," the report declares, "but these were offset by strengthening gains in other industries."

The building industry, according to the review, for the ninth successive month, broke all records for corresponding periods.

Retail trade, as measured by department store sales, was the largest in history.

A new record for automobile production was established also while savings deposits in district banks increased 0.2 per cent. Bank clearings increased 9.4 per cent.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

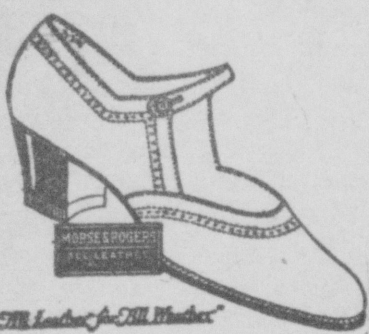

"A very difficult question," the President calls the traffic casualties of the time. The figures that he cites—24,000 persons killed in a year upon the streets and highways of the country, and probably more than 500,000 injured. This means that over a period of the same length as our participation in the world war Americans are losing three-fourths as many lives on streets and roads as they lost to German bullets, and running up in addition a non-fatal casualty list thrice as great as they did abroad.

"The president has asked all the governors to appoint delegates to a national safety convention to assemble in March. While we know of no formula to meet the situation he has outlined the conference may write history by focusing public attention on the national aspects of a problem made up of a multitude of incidents at street corners and cross roads. Many communities are at work seeking and applying remedies.

The figures set forth in this article certainly ought to be a very convincing argument for

WORLD'S ONLY RADIO TOURING BUREAU IS RULED BY A WOMAN

So far has woman traveled from her place in the home that now she has even become dictator to the open highway! Miss Nina Baker is only 25 years old, but she is a recognized authority on motor travel information anywhere in the United States.

Radio appealed to Miss Baker as the most satisfactory way of conducting an up-to-the-minute travel service, so now she is directing the only radio tourist bureau in the world. This clearing house of automobile travel information is the Stewart-Warner Touring Bureau, and will be broadcast over WBBM, Chicago. WBBM operates on a 226 meter wave length. Branch stations of the Bureau will be established in fifty-two cities in the United States and Canada.

Radio talks will be given over WBBM several times a week. Every phase of motor traveling will be considered; how to dress; keeping physically fit while motoring; traffic laws in the different states; weather forecasts; where to camp, and how to estimate the cost of your trip.

The Stewart-Warner Touring Bureau also broadcasts an invitation for all listeners who plan trips to send in for free road maps and charts and any special information they want.

Affiliations have been established with more than 2,000 motor clubs, chambers of commerce, garages, hotels, resorts, and other travel information bureaus, whose resources will be available for tourists applying to the Bureau.

The time is passed when the measure of the value of a memorial is quantity. I hope the time has come when that measure is quality. I care not whether the material be marble or granite, its future will be measured by the character of the design. It is quality that has preserved for us the finest examples in painting and sculpture. It is quality that will stamp our imprint upon cemeteries of the future. Simplicity, correct lines and proportions and proper ornamentation are the real fundamentals. New Laced Hose Shows Bare Skin

HERE you are, girls, the very newest thing in clocks.

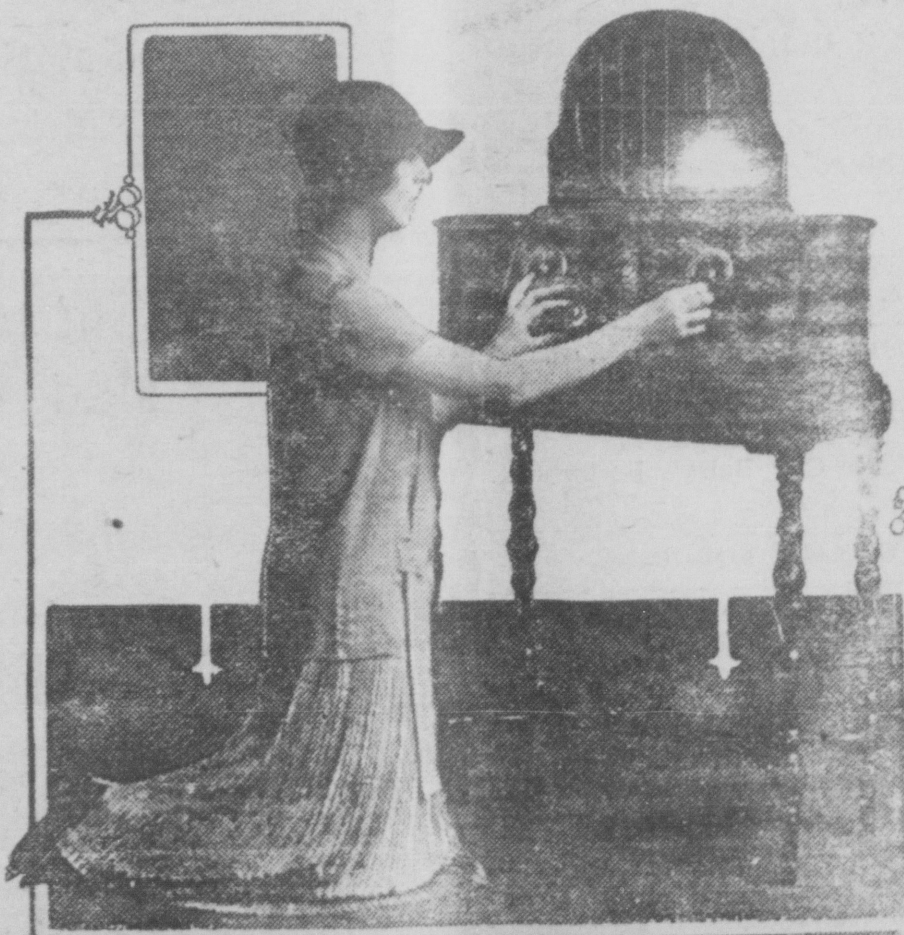

No, we do not mean timepieces, either. We are now discussing the very latest fad from Hollywood which was introduced recently by Sally O'Neill, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, whose latest production is "Sally, Irene and Mary." You are not in it this year unless you have at least one pair of the new laced stockings. A side piece on each side has been cut out of the stocking. This is bound with dainty lace and ribbon crisscrosses up the side of the leg, ending in a tiny bow at the top.

The bare skin shows through and makes an attractive black and white effect. "But don't stand in any drafts," says Miss O'Neill "when you are wearing these stockings, or you're apt to catch cold."

Charleston dancers find that these hose give inspiration for bigger and better Charleston steps.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE.

One of the offices to be filled at the coming fall election is that of secretary of state, a position which has vastly increased in importance in recent years owing to the fact that the automobile department is one of its divisions, and because of the fact that the secretary is the chief election officer of the state.

One of the candidates for the Republican nomination for this place is Joseph E. Cross, who is well known to many of our people and they would be pleased to see him secure the position to which he aspires.

Mr. Cross has, despite many difficulties, been quite successful in all his undertakings; due, no doubt, to his sterling character, his ability and unfailing kindness and courtesy.

In his early career, he was active in the teaching profession and as editor of newspapers at West Union and Portsmouth. He served as state supervisor of public printing under Governor Willis and later was an instructor in the Columbus Business college until elected clerk of the Ohio senate some years ago, and to which responsible position he was elected each time without opposition.

As clerk of the Ohio senate, he has made many friends thruout the state by his amiability, his knowledge of the duties of the office and his willingness to serve.

Mr. Cross has been an active worker all his life and has served his party as a member of county, district and state committees. In the campaigns of 1922 and 1924, he was selected by the state executive committee to manage the legislative campaign in Ohio, and his thoroughness and effectiveness are reflected in the results in those years.

In 1922 Governor Donahey was elected by a plurality of about 18,000 votes while in the general assembly, both house and senate, 134 Republicans and 31 Democrats were elected. In 1924 the Republicans elected 143 members and the Democrats elected only 22, notwithstanding the fact that Governor Donahey was reelected by a plurality of 175,000.

Mr. Cross is a splendid Christian man, who practices in his daily life his preachments. He is competent, industrious, thoroly dependable and would make a first class secretary of state.

His work has brought him in direct contact with active, representative, influential people in every nook and corner of the state. The number of his friends is only limited by the number of persons who have had the pleasure of meeting him.

He is admirably fitted for the performance of the onerous duties of the office, would make an ideal candidate and an ideal secretary of state.

The writer has known this candidate for many years and expresses the hope that the Republicans may make him their nominee in August, with the assurance that they will never have cause to regret their action.

Ancient Needlework

The earliest example of needlework known to exist comes from the tomb of a Pharaoh 1,500 years before the Christian era, and there are specimens of Greek work dating from twelve centuries later.

HARTMAN THEATER.

The joy of an engagement of mystery will soon be ours, for Thurston, the master magician, will be the attraction at the Hartman theater, Columbus, for the week commencing Monday, February 15, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Many a tired business man or a busy mother will be routed out of their easy chairs and sent wandering off to the theater surrounded by a brood of youngsters determined to bring home either a pigeon or a rabbit as a present from Thurston, who is conceded to be the greatest exponent of the art of necromancy and the most plausible and delightful trickster of the entertainment world today.

Thurston has stood alone at the head of his chosen profession for numerous years and is now making his twentieth annual tour with his wonder show of the universe for such it is; because of the fact that the ideas for his wondrous illusions and deceptions are gathered from the remote corners of the world. These ideas have been brought to a state of perfection by the famous magician and will soon be offered for your delectation.

Thurston's new program is the most pretentious of any previously offered and contains thrills, laughter and mystery and will be presented by the largest company ever assembled to support a master magician and numbers thirty-five individuals, many of whom are pretty girls, and with gorgeous scenic array of extravagance and beauty, paraphernalia, animals, etc. that require three sixty-foot baggage cars greatly enhance the many and varied mysteries included in his program, as: "The Great East Indian Rope Trick," "Broadcasting a Woman," "The Phantom," "The Human Cannon Ball," "The Vanishing Horse and Rider," "Crushing a Woman," "The Mystic Follies," "The Vanishing Donkey," "The Human Pin Cushion," "The Elastic Lady," "The Phantom Princess" who floats out over the stage into the orchestra, then vanishing like a cloud in thin air, and one hundred other mysteries.

IN MEMORIAM

Editor Union-Herald:—Alonzo Eugene Weaver, son of David F. and Amanda Cole Weaver, was born January 19, 1852, in Walnut township, Pickaway county, Ohio, and departed from this life February 2, 1926, aged 74 years and 14 days.

On September 10, 1874, he was united in marriage to Catherine Oman of Walnut township, who died November 1, 1901. To this union three daughters were born; Mrs. George Marion, Mrs. Walter Marion, of Circleville, and Mrs. Loren Ater, of Atlanta. Mr. Weaver was united in marriage to Mrs. Julia Petterson August 7, 1913, who was his constant companion during his last illness.

He joined the Methodist Episcopal church at Hedges chapel when a young man, under the pastorate of Rev. Westervelt and continued a faithful member until death called him home. After finishing high school at Circleville, he graduated at Lebanon college. Mr. Weaver was always interested in every good cause and held several important offices in the community in which he lived. At the time of his death he was president of the Ashville Grain company, president of the Farmers' Mutual Insurance company and director of the Citizens' bank at Ashville. He was also a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge at Circleville for fifty-two years. He was one of the older members of this lodge.

Mr. Weaver leaves besides his widow and daughters, three grandchildren; Alonzo-Marion, Jerald Marion and Catherine Marion. Of his immediate family, one sister, Mrs. Lyda Brinker, of Walnut township, survives, and a host of relatives and friends.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our husband and father and for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Julia Weaver and Daughters.

Foxes Love Cheese

Cheese is good, hearty food, and most animals that are not herbivorous will eat it whenever they get a chance, but it is surprising to learn, from a writer in Field and Stream, that a captive fox can be coaxed into eating cheese, even when every other attempt to tease his appetite fails.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

C. E. Roof and Miss Jane Sweetman attended a birthday dinner given by Mrs. Jennie Cooper, of 23 West Second street, Columbus, today.

Saturday evening, February 6, a number of young folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Kerns to surprise their daughter, Florence, the occasion being her 18th birthday anniversary. The evening was spent with music and games. Miss Kerns received many nice and useful presents. Those who were present to enjoy the occasion were Misses Marcela Hampshire, Helen Anderson, Mary Valentine, Dorothy Anderson, Eva Bookwalter, Mary O. Leary, Freda Bowden and Hazel Kerns, Wilbur Pontius, Roy Leist, Renick Valentine, Floyd Arledge, Sam Creachbaum, Gus Valentine, George Wright, Leonard Graves, Bruce Valentine, Harry Arledge, John Rittinger, Harry Wright, Russell Leist and Harold Pontius. Lunch was served and at a late hour all departed wishing Miss Kerns many more happy birthday anniversaries.

Elizabeth Sines and sisters gave an old-fashioned taffy pulling for their friends Wednesday night, February 3 at their home near Robtown. An enjoyable evening was spent in playing games and pulling taffy. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sines, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Hill and daughter, Evelyn, Misses Lula and Irene O'Hara, Dorothy and Roberta Koch, Georgia Huston, Frances Whaley, Bernice and Ruth Rowe and Eva Wilkins; Messrs. Nelson Florence, Howard Koch, Ned Walker, Enos and Glenn Fausnaugh, Frank Noggle, Loring and Weldon Hill and Grant Sines. All reported a good time.

A number of friends of William Kinney gathered at his home, 430 East Union street, Tuesday evening and tendered him a surprise in honor of his 37th birthday anniversary. The evening was pleasantly spent. Caris was the diversion and a delicious lunch was served. Those present were Mrs. George W. Kinney, Miss Clara Kinney, Frank W. Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Karshner, Mr. and Mrs. William Bartles, Mr. and Mrs. John Bartles and family, Mrs. Anna Chandler and daughter, Ursula, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Swearingen and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fohl.

At the regular monthly session of the Von Bora society held in the social rooms of the church Monday evening a program as follows was rendered:

Five Minute Talk on the Life of Lincoln..... Lucy Seall
Five Minute Talk on the Life of Washington..... Grace Bowers
Piano Solo..... Helen Pickens
Evangelism..... George Griffith
Vocal Solo..... Mrs. Elmer Wolf

A social hour followed the program during which refreshments were served by the committee.

Apes and Monkeys

The terms "ape" and "monkey" are frequently used interchangeably; all monkeys are called apes and all apes are called monkeys. But the term "ape" is more particularly applied to the tailless, manlike monkeys of the old world, such as the chimpanzee; while "monkey" is more often used when speaking of the smaller aboreal monkeys.—Pathfinder Magazine.

To Dry Out Wet Boots

The quickest and best way to dry out wet hunting boots is to heat a pan of oats or small pebbles. Get them good and warm, not red hot. Pour them into the boots and let them stand for a half hour. At the end of this time all of the moisture will have been taken out and the boots are ready to wear. Don't forget that when the dew is heavy in the morning or slush snow covers the ground.

Felt for Chair Legs

Felt glued on the ends of the chair legs will prevent them from marring the polished floor. Also this simple device will do away with the scraping noise chairs generally make when moved about. There are rubber caps manufactured for this purpose, but the felt will be found easier to attach, as it can be cut to any size. Long strips also can be cut to fit the rockers of rocking chairs.

Sometimes we pay for our mistakes on the spot, as in the case of that North Carolina man who mistook a wildcat for a coon.

Latest Diving Suit

The German diving suit used in locating the British submarine M-1 is a rigid suit made of aluminum alloy; the arms and legs are jointed, the joints being made on the ball-and-socket principle. The entire outfit weighs about half a ton and is able to withstand a pressure up to 25 atmospheres, equal to a depth of 750 feet, under test. It is connected with the surface by a light cable containing three independent telephone lines. Inside the suit there is a normal pressure of one atmosphere all the time, therefore it is not necessary to raise the diver by slow stages. The diver also wears over his mouth a mask containing a cartridge which absorbs the carbonic acid, and so enables him to breathe the same air over and over again.

Boston Needed It

A young woman from Indiana who was visiting her married sister in Boston was the guest of honor at a dinner party. During the first and second courses of the dinner she was the center of the conversation with her glowing descriptions of the beauties of her own state. When, for the third course of the dinner, the servant entered carrying a huge fish on a large platter, a Boston lawyer turned to her and said:

"Now you must admit that Indiana is a back number. Who ever saw an Indiana fish of that size?"
"Oh, that's all right," she replied, "the Lord in His infinite wisdom put the brain food where it was most needed."

(Boots—boots—boots—boots—movin' up an

Boots—boots—boots—boots—movin' up an down again!

From Rudyard Kipling's "Boots."

Kipling now adds the palm of fashion prophesy to his poetic laurels. For it's boots—kid boots—forty the end million of 'em—

black kid boots, tan kid boots, colored kid boots, tall kid boots, short kid boots—the sundry and diverse rodents mobilized by Mr. Pled Piper have nothing in the variety of kid boots now movin' up an' down in Paris, London, New York and shortly, no doubt, in points west.

But there is reason as well as prophesy to Kipling's post-prandial recitative masterpiece. For these boots not only protect delicate feminine hosiery from the boisterous assaults of rain, snow, and slush, not only accentuate by contrast and reveal by concealment, but by virtue of a diversity of colors, patterns, and trimmings, the boots supply a harmonious note of novelty, beauty, and allure to the feminine ensemble.

In short, the drab utility of the ugly canvas golosh seems to have capitulated to the double desirability of the leather boot, which, because of its beauty is likewise proudly worn while the sun shines and all is dry underfoot. So far in America, only a few of the elite can afford the high prices charged. Needless to remark, however, enterprising American manufacturers are approaching a state of mild frenzy in a scramble to get in quickly on a popular "killing." It is reported by cable dispatch in the New York Sun—"The kid boot craze has set British factories working overtime." 1,500,000 pairs are reported to have been made in London alone.

The Thrifty Housewife

It was Benjamin Franklin, the great apostle of thrift, who first emphasized the point that true thrift lies in getting the best value—not merely for one's money, but for one's time as well. This might, indeed, be called "the higher thrift," and the modern woman is rapidly learning to readjust her standard of values to get in line with it. The establishment of an annual Thrift Week, beginning on January 17th, which is Franklin's birthday indicates a general acceptance of his philosophy of thrift.

Real thrift is not going without, but making the most of things—our talents, our money, our time. The thrifty housewife learns to spend her money judiciously. She saves on her food budget by getting the best values for her money, and she soon discovers that ready-to-serve foods offer her one of the best forms of thrift.

She has learned that ready-to-serve foods are a real economy not only of money, but of time and labor. So she buys in a varied supply of them, and selects what she wants from her canned food shelf. She seasons them, adds butter, eggs or cream, and explains them with other foods, such as bread and cracker crumbs, etc., ad infinitum. There is almost no limit to the tasty combinations that may be made of these prepared foods.

She will particularly learn to use the good, old staples, such as corn, peas, tomatoes and string beans, making out of them many a savory, wholesome and economical dish. These might be termed The Old Guard among vegetables, but there are others almost as essential to the daily menu—baked beans, spaghetti, spinach, sauerkraut, beets, pumpkin and sweet potatoes. All of these are high in food value.

These foods are particularly economical in carved form, because the great demand for them enables the canners to pack and sell them in large quantities, at a very small profit per can. At first thought, it may seem to the housewife that it is cheaper for her to buy fresh sweet potatoes and "candy" them, then to buy the ready-prepared product in canned form. This is true, if she is ready to cook the sweet potatoes on the day she buys them. But if she keeps them on hand for several days, they spoil and must be thrown away. She must take into consideration the saving of time represented by the sweet potatoes in tins.

The many savory dishes which may be made from the ready-to-serve staples permit the housewife much variety in her daily menus. Corn, for instance, may be sauté with chopped green peppers, which also may be had in canned form. Or, if there is any mashed potato left over, delicious croquettes may be made by mixing it with ready-to-serve corn. The possibilities are infinite.

Perhaps one of the strongest incentives to buying food in tins is the fact that there is no waste in them. There are no peelings, no rinds, no cores, no spoilage. All the parts which cannot be eaten have been eliminated before the food went into the cans. There is nothing to be thrown away, as in the case of fresh foods.

To the modern woman time-saving has a very definite, economical value. The hours which she would otherwise have to spend in the various details of the preparation and cooking of foods, the ready-to-serve products permit her to devote to the social, mental and spiritual needs of her family, and to participate in the world's work along various important lines.

PLANS PROTECTION OF BENEFICIARIES

William Raduszis of Cleveland, Ohio, has been sentenced to serve from three to ten years in the penitentiary for embezzling from his brother, John, an insane World war veteran, $11,372.42 paid as disability compensation by the government.

Investigation was started last spring by the Cuyahoga county council of the American Legion. The embezzlement was discovered by Louis Laeger, rehabilitation officer at the government hospital at Chillicothe, Ohio, where John Raduszis is confined.

Mr. Laeger made inquiries as to why no money was received at the hospital to pay for incidentals for the insane man. Then investigation was started by the Legion organization, which led to the arrest and conviction of William Raduszis, who had been named as the brother's guardian. About $2,000 was recovered and will be conserved in the estate of the veteran.

Such conditions in the affairs of guardians of mentally incompetent veterans and minor orphans and others who are beneficiaries of the United States veterans' bureau are being constantly uncovered by the Legion and the national guardianship service of the veterans' bureau, which have been co-operating in a strict investigation of the guardianships.

Shell-shocked veterans are confined without care in many instances, the investigation is revealing. War orphans are neglected and hungry, while their guardians have been buying furs and automobiles with funds paid for the benefit of these wards of the government.

Plans are being considered by the Legion for setting up a state judge advocates system which will provide in every county an attorney who will guard the interests of bureau beneficiaries. Such a system is already in very successful operation in Illinois.

"A very large percentage of those who were originally appointed as guardians of bureau beneficiaries were not qualified for the trust," Maj. David G. Arnold, national guardianship officer of the veterans' bureau, says. "When called on recently to account for the administration of their trusts, they were unable to do so. Insufficient bonds, in some cases none at all, were given. Sureties were often of no responsibility. In many cases, as a result, the beneficiary has lost all the money that was paid by the government to the guardian for his account."

Forty-Acre Tract Used for Legion Playground

"Inspiration Home in God's Country." That is what they are calling the first completed unit of the first national playground of the American Legion. The camp is in the Legion's 40-acre tract in the San Isabel forest near Pueblo, Colo. It was recently dedicated.

The government set aside on request the 40-acre plot in the forest for the exclusive use of the Legion. The camp was established and is being operated by posts of the Legion at Westcliffe, Pueblo, Alamosa, Walsenburg, Florence, Canon City, Trinidad and Center.

Libraries for Hospitals

Installation of a complete library service in every hospital under the control of the United States Veterans' bureau is contemplated by Director Frank T. Hines, according to information received by the national rehabilitation committee of the American Legion. Legion officials were largely instrumental in this step in the interest of the disabled.

AN EXCEPTION

Husband—This tomato soup tastes just like that my mother used to make.

Wife—I'm glad to hear it. You have never said before that anything of mine was as good as your mother's. She was a fine cook, I suppose?

Husband—Yes. There was only one thing she couldn't make properly.

Wife—What was that?

Husband—Tomato soup!—Stockholm Kasper.

Unto This End

"By the way," said the lawyer who was drawing up the will, "I notice that you've named six bankers to be your pallbearers. Would you rather choose some friends with whom you are on better terms?"

"No, that's all right," was the quick reply. "Those fellows have carried me so long they might as well finish the job."—Boston Transcript.

She Wants to Know

He said he had never loved before.

As he gave the girl a kiss.

"Then how," asked the girl,

With her head in a whirl,

"Did you learn to love like this?"

Showed Her New Steps

Hostess (at dance)—What have you and Arthur been doing outside all this time?

Dolly—Oh, he showed me some new steps.

"But I thought he didn't dance."

"He doesn't. We sat on them."

Sorry for Thoughts

"Oh! Are you really a mind reader?"

"Yes! I am."

"Then I hope you aren't offended I didn't mean what I thought about you."

Many Hearts Offered

Merritt—So that heiress refused you?

Giles—Yes. She said that so many hearts were submitted to her daily, she hoped I would overlook the absence of any individual criticism.

Her Heart Engaged

He (admirably)—You are a girl after my own heart.

She—Thank you; but I hope you are not a man after mine, because it's otherwise engaged.

RENEWABLE CHARMS

Mr. Laurels—More physical beauty is all too fleeting.

Miss Manchester—It doesn't last long but, then, it can be renewed every day.

Throw Gas Bombs To Quell Riot At Trial of Negro.

Georgetown, Del., Feb. 8.—(U.P.)—Gas bombs filled with tear gas were hurled by Del-ware troops to prevent a mob from forcing its way into the court house here at the noon recess of the trial of Harry Butler, negro, charged with assaulting a 12 year old white girl.

The mob attempted to break down the wire entanglements around the court house and officers in command ordered the soldiers of the Delaware National guard to put on their gas masks.

A few seconds later, parts of the fence gave way and the soldiers started throwing gas bombs into the crowd.

MAD DOG SCARE IN DARBY TOWNSHIP

Subsiding—Three Men Were Bitten Reports Dr. Geo. W. Heffner, County Health Physician.

Dr. Geo. W. Heffner, County Health Physician, reports that three instead of two men were given treatment for rabies in the vicinity of Derby, under his orders. Twenty-odd sheep, several hogs and a horse that were bitten by a mad-dog, were killed. Dr. Heffner ordered a large number of dogs at the custodial farm at Orient, confined for investigation.

The excitement is subsiding.

FALL DOWN STAIRS

At Her Home Was Fatal To Dayton Woman.

Dayton, Feb. 8.—(U.P.)—Funeral services for Mrs. Rose Sucher, 58, wife of Charles M. Sucher, president of the Sucher Packing Company, who is in Florida, will be arranged, when he returns. Mrs. Sucher died of a broken neck received when she plunged down a flight of stairs at her home Sunday.

The dead woman was discovered at the foot of the stairs when her step-son, Charles M. Sucher, Jr., called at the home Sunday as was his custom, during the absence of his father.

Lesson for February 14

JESUS, THE GOOD SHEPHERD

LESSON TEXT—John 10:1-30.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I am the good shepherd, the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep."—John 10:11.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Good Shepherd and His Sheep.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus, the Good Shepherd.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What the Good Shepherd Does for His Sheep.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Many Sheep, but One Shepherd.

The relationship of the Messiah to His own is set forth in the Old Testament under the figure of the shepherd and his sheep. (Ps. 23, Ez. 34).

1. The Good Shepherd (vv. 1-18).

1. He is the True Shepherd (vv. 1-6).

He came by the divinely appointed way. The power exercised by the Pharisees in casting out this man was not obtained by lawful means. It was stolen by them and exercised in the bold spirit of robbers. John the Baptist, and others of the prophets, had performed the function of the porter and opened the door to the Shepherd (v. 23). Despite the deceit, audacity, theft and robbery of these Pharisees, those who were Christ's sheep were declared to be forming a new flock and following Him as the true Shepherd (v. 4). The reason the man suffered excommunication for Jesus' sake was that he recognized Him as the true Shepherd and the Pharisees as strangers.

2. He is the Door of the Sheep (vv. 7-10).

The way to fellowship to God is through Christ. He is the only door (Acts 4:12). There is absolutely no way to get into the fold of the redeemed but by Him. All who attempt it are thieves and robbers (v. 8). Those who become members of the flock through Him enjoy marvelous gifts (vv. 9, 10).

(1) Salvation—"Shall be saved."

Not only saved now but saved eternally (vv. 27, 28).

(2) Liberty—"Shall go in and out" (v. 9).

Only those who accept salvation in Christ know what freedom is.

(3) Contentment—"Shall go in and out and find pasture" (v. 9).

The one who really enters the fold by Christ, the door, receives that which is all-satisfying to the soul.

3. He is the Good Shepherd (vv. 11-18).

He is so devoted to His sheep that He willingly lays down His life for them. The hireling abandons his sheep in time of danger. The Good Shepherd has perfect knowledge of His sheep and they know Him (vv. 14, 15). He enjoys such personal intimacy with His sheep that He knows them by name and goes before them to lead the way and defend them from every danger. This He will do even unto death. On Calvary this was his torically fulfilled. It was Christ's love for such sheep as this poor blind man that caused Him to give up His life in order to find for them the abundant life (v. 10). This sympathy is world-wide—"other sheep I have which are not of this fold." This suggests that the Gentiles have a place in His fold. All who believe in Christ form one flock. In order to save His sheep He voluntarily laid down His life (vv. 17, 18).

11. The Sheep (vv. 19-30).

1. Unbelievers Are Not His Sheep (vv. 19-20).

Christ's assertion that He was the good shepherd caused a division among the people. Some accused Him of being mad, others that He had a devil. To their request that He would tell them plainly if He were the Christ, He referred them to the testimony of His works, declaring that the secret of their inability to recognize Him was their unbelief.

2. They Recognize His Voice (v. 4).

There are many voices in the world, the voice of the hireling, the voice of the thief and the voice of the stranger, but none of these will the sheep hear. The voice of the true Shepherd is recognized by His sheep even amidst the babel of voices in the world today.

3. His Sheep Follow Him (vv. 3, 27).

This is the proof that they are His. The one who does not hear, heed, and obey the Lord's voice is clearly not His sheep. His sheep have unquestioned faith in His ability to lead them.

4. His Sheep Are Eternally Secure (vv. 27, 28).

The sheep are entirely dependent upon the Shepherd. It is the Shepherd's business to look after and care for the sheep. This He does for He knows them by name and is acquainted with their weaknesses and trials.

The Real Blessing

The real blessing, mercy, satisfaction, is not in the having or the lack of merely outward things, but in the consciousness that the true source of life and happiness is deeper than all these.—John W. Chadwick.

Eyes to See

As a face is made beautiful by the soul's shining through it, so the world is beautiful by the shining through it of a loving God. Happy the man who has eyes to see the shining.

INTERESTING LUMBER TALK BY LOCAL MAN

T. O. Gilliland Addressed the Chamber of Commerce on His Industry.

Tuesday evening at the chamber of commerce, T. O. Gilliland, of the Circleville Lumber company, on Edison avenue, told the audience something about his company.

The Circleville Lumber company, said the speaker, was established here in 1912, just a year before the flood and while the company did not provide Noah with the timber to build the ark, it has since furnished lumber and building material for some of the best and most beautiful homes in rejuvenated Circleville.

The company operates as an independent concern, with its main office in this city, selling lumber roofing and building material and operates a planing mill in connection with its lumber yard. The company is a member of the Ohio Association of Retail Lumber dealers and also a member of The Peter Kuntz Associated Lumbermen.

It is a misunderstanding, that we are only a line yard controlled by outside capital. Our common stock is all held by myself and our association with the Kuntz company is only a means to an end. First for buying purposes and being associated with 75 or 80 other lumber yards our power is multiplied many times and we are assured better service from mills and factories.

The association was fostered by Peter Kuntz, of Dayton, and is the only one of its kind in existence. It has certain rules and conditions that each member must live up to, good sheds and building stock kept neat and orderly. Mr. Kuntz was the pioneer who made it possible for any young man with limited capital to follow lumbering as a business and succeed.

In our plant on Edison avenue we employ from seven to ten men and we are quite sure that our stock is as complete or even more so than the average lumber yard of any city regardless of size. We operate two delivery trucks and a trailer. We not only sell lumber, but we have a plan service and when desired will furnish estimates on any building complete and ready to move into. Our planing mill is equipped to do all kinds of wood work and cabinet work and also to build truck bodies and cabs.

Now, as to the possible outlook for the future. So far as I can see, there is no rosy prospect peeping over the horizon for the lumber business in this community, yet we have a right to expect the usual steady demand. Like all other businesses the lumber trade has plenty of competition and there are generally too many yards in a given territory, but Circleville can support two yards, not too big; but two medium sized outfits can get along very nicely. However, a man hopeful of getting rich should stay out of the lumber business.

The chamber of commerce can help the lumber business in this city in more ways than one. Folks, as a whole, have shown lack of appreciation of the value of a good lumber yard, and I am quite sure it is because they have never learned just what such a business does for their community.

The modern lumber or building store is different from other businesses, the services of most retail stores and banks to the community is to live and save, but the service of a retail lumber yard to a community grows. A community to grow must have new homes and buildings and the real lumber man's job is not so much to sell his lumber as it is to make it easy for his customers to build. In passing I might say that this is fairly well taken care of by the lumber dealers of this city.

The fundamental principles that underlie the upbuilding of any city, is to believe in your home town. It has been the habit of the citizen who has made good here, when he quits business to dig out go to a larger city and live a retired life. If your town is good enough to live in, help build it up, build new homes. The price of lumber is not prohibitive. Your investment is safer than money invested in foreign stocks and the return in rentals is greater. Suppose a factory would knock at your doors, it would take ten years to provide suitable homes for a hundred families. Believe in your home town and the outsiders will come in uninvited, attracted by your enterprise.
